Why it is that Pointoes Yield Less than formerly.

A correspondent wishes to be told why the yield of potatoes is less than formerly. The reason is not difficult to discover. It exists as a law of nature, embracing animals as well as vegetable organi ms. These all have exerctory as well as sceretory functions. All throw off effete matter, and this matter is hateful to the secretory vessels on which vegetables depend for their development:-If many crops in succession, of the same vegetable are grown, the effete matter increases in proportion to the nutritive, and finally overcomes all efforts at successful cultivation. The food decreases and the poison increases, with every crop. If manure general or special, is added to the soil, it increases the food, but does not necessarily diminish the poisonous effete matter. One hundred years ago potatoes were but little cultivated, and most grounds were left fresh for their production. Then and long afterwards, 400 bushels was not an extraordinary yield. Now the increased taste for its use and the great augmentation of our people, in number and ability to purchase, have it necessary that great breadths of land should be used for its growth. In consequence of this, much of the land have become weakened to a degree that invites destructive enemies to feed on its substance-to take advantage of its weakened organization.-Hence the rot, so called, and other ailments. Mother earth is a good mother, but like her sex generally she has a taste for variety in outer adornment. She will change her dress, even the most durable of her fabriesher forests. These are ever varying in composition, and finally thrown off altogether for grasses. These, again, have their round of varieties, and in a long course of years give place to other plants. Mother earth will have her way and those of us, her children, who best understand her requirements will partake most largely of her bounties.

Straw Sheller for Stock.

Very good and durable sheds may be made from straw, with a little care and painstaking. A good thatched toof, well laid on. of good straw, will shed rain and wet equally well as shingles, and last nearly as long; and the expense is nothing compared with shingle roofs.

A thatched roof may be made something as follows: Put up the rafters as for sheeting, on these place ribs, which may be spit poles, nailed one foot apart. The straw may be straight. Winter rye, threshed by hand is the best; fasten by laying on thin split poles, fasten to the ribs by splits of strong, tough bark; lay the courses thick and even, and finish off at the top. This will make a roof that will not leak and be serviceable.-Sides of buildings may be covored with straw. and made serviceable and warm, with little trouble. Doors of straw may be made strong, light and tight. Tie, wire, or nail together a frame of round sticks, wind a straw rope of about two inches in diameter around the long way, to cover the frame .-Then weave a tighter round straw rope. back and forth weaving the whole in a single mat. The strands on each side of the frame may be platted separately, thus forming a mat or door of double thickness. Straw sheds can have the wall ssprinkled with mud to prevent the cattle from pulling out the straw-be made quite marm and durable, and stock provided with such, with ordinary care, will come through the winter in very good condition; and the expence of keeping is very much less than when allowed to be C. E. SAVAGE, exposed to pelting storms. - North Western Furmer.

TAE AMERICAN SQUIRREL -- Of this most beautiful, active and graceful of all the furred denizens of our woods and plains, there are no less than sixty known varieties, and the number will most probably be increased when our Pacific possessions are more fully explored. To the sportsmen east of the Rocky Mountains the most interesting species are the gray, the fox and the pine squir rel, called on the tide water of Maryland and Virginia the cat squirrel. The gray squirrel frequently migrates in vast numbers and is then very destructive to the corn crop. To such an extent did their depradations reach in the colony of Pennsylvania. in the year 1749, as to excite the alarm of the authorities, and a bounty of three pence was offered for squirrel scalps; and the colonial treasury was depleated to the extent of eight thousand pounds, and rendered nearly bankrupt, six hundred and forty thousand scalps having been paid for in a snele year. In view of this great fecundity, it is fortunate the squirrel has so many enemies, and probably the least destructive of them all is man. The black snake assends to his nest, and at one fell swoop will destroy a whole litter; the rattlesnake, we are told. will paralyze poor bunny by the glitter of his eyes, and draw him on, an unresisting STOVES AND TINWARE. victim into the jaws of death. But the owl is his greatest and most destructive enemy, as towards the close of day he flits on noise less wing through the darkening woods, and pounces on his unsuspecting prey. The with with and others can be accommedated red-tailed hawk is another of his focs, but he is an open enemy, and wages war mag-

Honey.

Honey, it is well known, when taken fresh from the comb is a clear yellow sirup containing no trace of solid sugar. Upon straining, however, it assumes a crystaline appearance, and finally becomes a solid lump of sugar. It has been found that this H. C. HOWER, change is due to photographic action, chrystel zing only when exposed to light. This explanation furnishes us the reason why bees are so careful to work in perfect darkness, always carefully obscuring the glass windows which may be placed in your hives. The young bees can feed on the liquid honey only, and if light were allowed access to it, the sirup would gradually acquire a more or less solid consistency scaling up the cells and in all probability proving fatal to the immate of the hives.

Scrofula, or King's Evil

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercarial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venercal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to childres unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the

their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, cruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constituthe energies of life, so that scrofulous constitu-tions not only suffer from scrofulous com-plaints, but they have far less power to with-stand the attacks of other diseases; conse-quently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which de-cimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking in-fection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and in-vigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Enverive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Environtane, Plantes, Plantes, Blotches, Blains and Boils, Tunors, Tetti and Salt Riber, Scald Head, Ringword, Ribermatin, Syphilatic and Mercunial Dr. Eases, Dropsy, Dyspersia, Debilaty, mal, RECUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DE-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPERSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, ALL COMPLAINTS ARISING FROM VITTA-TED ON INTURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsapa-rilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIO, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have falled and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conforred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten. other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escap
